

CARROLL INLET

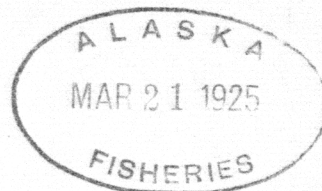

Located in Revillagigedo Island, East of Ketchikan.

On August 8 the salmon started to run up the creek at the rate of about 200 per day and continued to do so until about the 25th of August; then came a heavy rain and there were no more fish to be seen from that time on.

This creek is a good King salmon creek and there were thousands of King salmon there spawning last spring. They start to come into the creek in April and May. The seiners told me that they could not make a haul without getting from one to eight of these King salmon in a haul. These salmon had gone up the creek and spawned and come back down. From an examination I found them to be in perfect condition. They had changed color from a bright color to a dark red color.

Henry Anderson,
Stream Watchman.
